Contributors of Women Missionaries to Tirunelveli Diocese

A. Akila Mariathangam

Abstract: The Protestant missionaries came to India during the 18th century to spread Christianity. These missionaries started their work in the Tirunelveli district in 1778. The women missionaries were sent by various missions from time to time to promote the welfare of the people of Tirunelveli district. All of them dedicated their lives with the spirit imbibed by the founders of society and carried on the work with a hope and confidence. The women missionaries extended their work amidst many difficulties. Their self-sacrifice, love for God and their concern for the coming generations prompted them in their work. They dedicated themselves in building up the Protestant churches of Tirunelveli.

1 Assistant Professor, Department of Histor, St. John’s College, Palayamkottai. India