UGC-Human Resource Development Centre, Bharathiar University - Library Network – An Approach

Dr. M. Mariraj

Abstract

The UGC-HRDC Bharathiar University Library will identify and provide access to important reference sources, databases, online resources, in the BU HRDC library, libraries of constituent and Other UGC-HRDC Libraries in the Country. A link to these sources will be provided on the ULIB Search engine website. A protocol of reference sources available on the Internet will also be developed to provide Central Online Reference Service facility and also to enable participating libraries to extend reference service systematically to their user community.
