Digital Resources and Services on Agricultural Information in India

Dr. M. Sankar\(^1\) and Dr. C. Karuilancheran\(^2\)

Abstract

In the recent years, there has been an increasing interest for using digital materials. The past ten years have seen increasingly rapid advances in the field of digital resources through World Wide Web environment. Agricultural Sector has tremendously developed the Digital based resources and disseminates information to the farming society through radio, television, computers (Internet) and also through mobile phone apps. In the present world agricultural technologies have got a significant role to play in the development of Economy. National and International level agriculture sectors introduced various technologies and developed digital-based information to facilitate the farming society. The paper provides various digital resources and services available for farmers in India.

Keywords: Digital Library, Digital repository, Services, Agricultural Sector, India.

---

1 Assistant Librarian, Tamil Nadu Agricultural University, Anbil Dhramalingam Agricultural College and Research Institute, Trichirapalli, Tamil Nadu, India – 620 009.
2 Deputy Librarian, Tamil Nadu Agricultural University, Agricultural College and Research Institute, Madurai, Tamil Nadu, India – 625 104.